L. Positive Behavior Interventions and Support

Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports (PBIS) PBIS is a school-wide approach used in addressing student behavior and creating a positive school climate. Rather than a program or curriculum, PBIS provides systems for schools to design, implement, and evaluate effective school-wide, classroom, non-classroom, and student specific plans. It is supported by the Grant Wood Area Education Agency and the Department of Education.

Key Features

Common expectations have been created at Carpenter and Shannon Elementary. Our expectations are: 1.) Be Responsible, 2.) Be Respectful, and 3.) Be Safe

These expectations are applied throughout classroom and non-classroom areas (lunchroom, hallways, restrooms, etc.) Signs with expectations are posted throughout the buildings. Students receive direct instruction in expected behaviors. Teachers and staff teach and refer to the school-wide expectations throughout the year. There is an emphasis on acknowledging positive behaviors.

Problem behavior is addressed with consistent consequences that are focused on re-teaching expected behavior. PBIS impacts student achievement by helping to create a positive learning environment.

M. Behavior Management 109.12(2)

Panther Academy follows a pro-active, positive approach to behavior management. This aligns with the Monticello School District's commitment to Positive Behavior Intervention and Support (PBIS).

The foundation of PBIS is ensuring that all children know and understand behavior expectations. It is our intent to consistently teach expectations for behavior in a variety of ways (discussion, verbal cues, and visual cues). All of the rules within Panther Academy relate to the PBIS expectations of "Be Responsible, Be Respectful, Be Safe."

When a non-violent inappropriate behavior occurs that requires staff intervention, the following steps are followed:

1. Staff states the expected behavior in the situation ("The safe way to put the crayons away is to set them gently in the tub.")
2. Staff will model the appropriate behavior and reteach the expectation.
3. Staff will redirect the child to a different activity. Staff will provide choices to the child when appropriate.

4. If the behavior continues after staff intervention, the child will be asked to move away from the group to take a break. The child will return to the group when they feel they are ready to participate appropriately.
5. Staff will consistently provide positive reinforcement to children showing appropriate behaviors and following expectations.

When a physically violent/aggressive behavior occurs, the staff will intervene immediately and follow these steps:

1. Address the child or object that is targeted, ensuring their safety. Provide emotional support and treat injury if needed.
2. Address the child displaying the unsafe behavior. Move away from the problem situation, or move others away from that child to ensure safety.
3. State the expected behavior in that situation. Ask the child to explain the situation, and problem solve how that behavior could be handled differently the next time it occurs.
4. The staff may ask the child to move away from the group or take a break. The child will return to the group when they are ready to participate appropriately.
5. Staff will write a behavior report explaining the situation. Notification will be given to the parent of the child displaying the aggressive behavior and to the parent of the child that was targeted.

For ongoing inappropriate behavior, the Director will request a meeting with the child, their parents, and the program Supervisor. The group will work to create a behavior plan that addresses the specific needs of that child.

Per DHS guidelines the center shall not use as a form of discipline:

- a. Corporal punishment including spanking, shaking, and slapping.
- b. Punishment which is humiliating or frightening or which causes pain or discomfort to the child. Children shall never be locked in a room, closet, box or other device. Mechanical restraints shall never be used as a form of discipline. When restraints are part of a treatment plan for a child with a disability authorized by the parent and a psychologist or psychiatrist, staff shall receive training on the safe and appropriate use of the restraint.
- c. Punishment or threat of punishment associated with a child's illness, lack of progress in toilet training, or in connection with food or rest.
- d. No child shall be subjected to verbal abuse, threats, or derogatory remarks about the child or the child's family.

N. Mandatory Reporter 109.4(4)

Center staff serving in a caretaking role with children are mandatory reporters of abuse. APPENDIX B

YOUR RIGHTS UNDER THE FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT OF 1993

FMLA requires covered employers to provide up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave to eligible employees for the following reasons:

- For incapacity due to pregnancy, prenatal medical care or child birth;
- To care for the employee’s child after birth, or placement for adoption or foster care;
- To care for the employee’s spouse, son or daughter, or parent, who has a serious health condition; or
- For a serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the employee’s job.

Military Family Leave Entitlements

Eligible employees with a spouse, son, daughter, or parent on active duty or call to active duty status in the National Guard or Reserves in support of a contingency operation may use their 12-week leave entitlement to address certain qualifying exigencies.

Qualifying exigencies may include attending certain military events, arranging for alternative childcare, addressing certain financial and legal arrangements, attending certain counseling sessions, and attending post-deployment reintegration briefings.

FMLA also includes a special leave entitlement that permits eligible employees to take up to 26 weeks of leave to care for a covered servicemember during a single 12-month period. A covered servicemember is a current member of the Armed Forces, including a member of the National Guard or Reserves, who has a serious injury or illness incurred in the line of duty on active duty that may render the servicemember medically unfit to perform his or her duties for which the servicemember is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy; or is in outpatient status; or is on the temporary disability retired list.

Benefits and Protection

During FMLA leave, the employer must maintain the employee’s health coverage under any “group health plan” on the same terms as if the employee had continued to work. Upon return from FMLA leave, most employees must be restored to their original or equivalent positions with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms.

Use of FMLA leave cannot result in the loss of any employment benefit that accrued prior to the start of an employee’s leave.

Job Eligibility Requirements

Employees are eligible if they have worked for a covered employer for at least one year, for 1,250 hours over the previous 12 months, and if at least 50 employees are employed by the employer within 75 miles.

Definition of Serious Health Condition

A serious health condition is an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves either an overnight stay in a medical care facility, or continuing treatment by a health care provider for a condition that either prevents the employee from performing the functions of the employee’s job, or prevents the qualified family member from participating in school or other daily activities.

Subject to certain conditions, the continuing treatment requirement may be met by a period of incapacity of more than 3 consecutive calendar days combined with at least two visits to a health care provider or one visit and a regimen of continuing treatment, or incapacity due to pregnancy, or incapacity due to a chronic condition. Other conditions may meet the definition of continuing treatment.

eligible, the employer must provide a reason for the ineligibility.

Use of Leave

An employee does not need to use this leave entitlement in one block. Leave can be taken intermittently or on a reduced leave schedule when medically necessary. Employees must make reasonable efforts to schedule leave for planned medical treatment so as not to unduly disrupt the employer's operations. Leave due to qualifying exigencies may also be taken.

Covered employers must inform employees if leave will be designated as FMLA-protected and the amount of leave counted against the employee's leave entitlement. If the employer determines that the leave is not FMLA-protected, the employer must notify the employee.

Substitution of Paid Leave for Unpaid Leave

Employees may choose or employers may require use of accrued paid leave while taking FMLA leave. In order to use paid leave for FMLA leave, employees must comply with the employer's normal paid leave policies.

Unlawful Acts by Employers

FMLA makes it unlawful for any employer to:

- Interfere with, restrain, or deny the exercise of any right provided under FMLA;
- Discharge or discriminate against any person for opposing any practice made unlawful by FMLA or for involvement in any proceeding under or relating to FMLA.

Employee Responsibilities

Employees must provide 30 days advance notice of the need to take FMLA leave when the need is foreseeable. When 30 days' notice is not possible, the employee must provide notice as soon as practicable and generally must comply with an employer's normal call-in procedures.

Enforcement

An employee may file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Labor or may bring a private lawsuit against an employer.

Employees must provide sufficient information for the employer to determine if the leave may qualify for FMLA protection and the anticipated timing and duration of the leave. Sufficient information may include that the employee is unable to perform job functions, the family member is unable to perform daily activities, the need for hospitalization or continuing treatment by a health care provider, or circumstances supporting the need for military family leave. Employees also must inform the employer if the requested leave is for a reason for which FMLA leave was previously taken or certified. Employees also may be required to provide a certification and periodic recertification supporting the need for leave.

FMLA does not affect any Federal or State law prohibiting discrimination, or supersede any State or local law or collective bargaining agreement which provides greater family or medical leave rights.

NOTE: FMLA section 109 (29 U.S.C. § 2619) requires FMLA covered employers to post the text of this notice. Regulations 29 C.F.R. § 825.300(a) may require additional disclosures.
